Cradled between the North Yorkshire Moors and the coast, Grinkle Park is an elegant Victorian country house built in a baronial style, set in 300 acres.

The hotel has elegant lounges with roaring open fires and an imposing snooker room. Among the original features are high embossed ceilings and elegant wooden wall panelling.

Each of the 20 bedrooms has its own individual style and character and many have views across the gardens and grounds.

The extensive grounds contain a lake as well as classical statues and peacocks. Should you have spare time on your hands you can enjoy croquet and tennis or take to the Jogging Trail. The Grinkle Estate is adjacent to the hotel and is well known for its rough shooting as well as for plentiful partridge and pheasant.

Whatever the nature of your requirement, the Conference and Banqueting Team can tailor an event to match your precise requirements and they will be on hand throughout to make sure that everything runs smoothly.

“We have held our annual conference at Grinkle Park for two consecutive years. Grinkle Park is perfect and has the flexibility to meet all our requests. The team building event organised by the hotel, was carried out with enthusiasm and energy.”
